NO TUITION THIS FALL

Mayor Makes It Official

STUDENTS ATTENDING BRONX COMMUNITY COLLEGE WILL NOT PAY TUITION AS OF SEPTEMBER, 1964.

This fall, New York City's 6,500 community college students will have no tuition to pay when they register for classes. Mayor Robert F. Wagner made it official earlier this month when he released his budget message for fiscal year 1964-65. The budget allows for an additional $2,000,000 in aid to the City University of New York.

The extra allocation will also enable the four-year city colleges to lower their admissions standards for freshmen. Beginning in September, a high school average of 83% will be sufficient for acceptance at City College, Hunter College, and Queens College and an average of 85% will admit freshmen to Brooklyn College.

At a meeting of the City College Alumni Association's Anti-Tuition Coordinating Committee in January, Mayor Wagner promised that every effort would be made by his administration and the Board of Higher Education to remove the $300 a year tuition requirement at the Bronx, Queensborough, and Staten Island Community Colleges. At the time, he pledged to find the additional $2,000,000 in his next budget that would allow for the removal of tuition at those colleges.

This action is seen not only as a fulfillment of that promise but also as a direct rebuke to Governor Rockefeller and the Board of Regents, both of whom have been attempting, without success, to talk the city administration into charging a $400 annual tuition at the four-year city colleges. Both the Governor and the Board have held that the city was being inconsistent in charging tuition at the community colleges but admitting students to the four-year colleges, free of charge. But instead of choosing to charge tuition at those branches of the City University, which the Governor and the Board had hoped the city would do, the Mayor has established a uniform policy by eliminating tuition in all branches of CUNY.

The fight for free tuition has been a long and bitter one, and Bronx Community College, has always been in the thick of the struggle. Only recently an anti-tuition rally was held in the auditorium, where such speakers as Dr. Morris Meister, President of the College, the Hon. Abraham Beame, Comptroller of the City of New York, and the Hon. Benjamin F. McLaurin of the BCC Committee of the Board of Higher Education upheld the principle of equal opportunities in higher education, a principle that has been a matter of tradition in New York City for over a century. BCC has also sent delegations to Albany to plead the cause of free tuition and to add support to attempts to discharge the Abrams Bill from committee in the State Assembly. The bill, if passed, would allow for the restoration of the legal mandate for free tuition in all city and state colleges.

New Budget Allows Move

Presumably, the elimination of tuition at the community colleges would also apply to the New York City Community College of Applied Arts and Sciences which came under the jurisdiction of the City University on April 9, 1964.

Students Honored For Service Here

by Tom Ratner

The capping of Nursing students and the presentation of awards to students for service to the College highlighted a service recognition convocation in the BCC Auditorium on Friday night, April 10, 1964.

The ceremonies opened with the procession of the Nursing students into the auditorium, marching to the accompanying music played by Prof. John Furst at the piano.

After the National Anthem, Dr. Morris Meister, President of the College, welcomed the audience of students, parents, and faculty and hailed the initiation of the capping of Nursing students at BCC.

Miss Anne Gotta, in the absence of Nursing Department Chairman Gerald J. Griffin, administered the Florence Nightingale Pledge to the Nursing students. Miss Gotta was assisted by the other members of the Department in the capping of the students. After the capping, the house lights were extinguished as the Nursing students lit individual candles which they held aloft as they took the oath.

SUNY Approves New Campus Site

The Board of Trustees of the State University of New York has approved the new "air-space" campus site for Bronx Community College.

Dr. Morris Meister, President of the College, announced the approval, which followed that already given by the Board of Higher Education of the City of New York, the Board of Estimate of New York City, and the City Planning Commission. The way is now clear for groundbreaking and the beginning of construction of the new campus.

Under the State Education Law, the cost of the project, an estimated $25,000,000 will be shared equally by the city and state.

President Meister, in welcoming the news of the last step in a series of necessary approvals for the plans for the new site, said:

"We are happy over this recognition of the needs of our community for higher education, especially for the student in the middle. They are being recognized by the educational statesmanship of

Every Vote Counts

Once again, the time for Student Council elections is approaching. Campaigning for offices begins on Monday, May 4 and the votes will be cast on Thursday, May 14.

This election will be the first ever held at Bronx Community College under a completely ratified Constitution. The usual regulations will be in effect. Candidates must have a 2.0 index, a limit of $25 may be spent on campaigning and no campaign literature of any sort may be distributed without the approval of the Student Council Elections Committee. No campaigning will be permitted on the day the ballots are cast and no candidate will be permitted at the site of the polls on that day, except for the sole purpose of casting his own vote.

At this time, the Communicator reiterates its traditional editorial policy of complete neutrality. We ask only that candidates for office do their very best, within the limits of the constitution. We also repeat our plea for active participation in voting on the part of the students. Last term's vote turnout was the highest in the history of the college and we should strive to improve upon that record. We should also strive to vote objectively. Let the election be directed on the basis of qualifications and issues, and not on the basis of personal whim or per-directed instruction. College elections cannot help but be popularity contests. However, students, in voting, should carefully explore the reasons why certain candidates are popular. Such an evaluation will better enable us to choose our leaders.

Ups and Downs

Now that we have a new elevator, we cannot help but wonder about the conditions under which the students will be permitted to use it. Certainly a reappraisal of the current policy of requiring special passes is in order.

We feel that any student having to travel from the first to the fourth or fifth floors should be permitted to ride the elevator without a pass. Admittedly, walking to the second or third floors is not much of a chore, particularly when the wait for the elevator is often not worth the amount of time that might be gained by walking. But a student having to walk to the fourth or fifth floor is apt to feel a bit discouraged by the prospect and would be more willing to wait for the elevator, in such a case.

As for downward travel, we concede even further. Only students going from the fifth to the first floors would be allowed on the elevator without a pass, it is conceivable that most students wouldn't even bother to take advantage of that opportunity.

In college, we like to think that things are different from high school. We no longer need a pass to leave a classroom. We eagerly look forward to the day when we will not even need a pass to ride an elevator.

To Hunter College

Some rather complimentary remarks made about this newspaper, in a recent edition of Hunter's Arrow have been brought to our attention, and we believe that the courteous thing to do is to say Thanks a Lot. We are always appreciative of helpful comments on the part of fellow college journals, particularly in the City University where a spirit of good will and cooperation is essential to harmony among the various branches.

We are looking forward to the day when Bronx Community College and Hunter College will lie side by side and will share certain facilities with one another. We are confident that this spirit of togetherness will make for a happy and fruitful association.

Why, who knows? BCC may even have its own press, to go along with its new "air-space" campus, and the Communicator might even become a daily newspaper. One never can tell what the future may bring.

College Clippings

by Larry Pittinger

KEN, the student newspaper of Brooklyn College, reports: "Rather than repeating his opposition to the institution of tuition charges at the four year colleges, Mayor Wagner struck out at the state by freeing the two-year colleges (from tuition)."

THE OBSERVATION POST, City College student voice states: "A tuition destroys opportunity, especially for minority groups... Free tuition has proven itself in 117 years of implementation... Most students cannot afford tuition... Tuition is budgetarily insignificant and cannot substantially aid expansion of educational facilities... Free tuition does pay because it benefits the whole community."

THE STYLUS, student voice at the State University College at Brockport, tells of the version of the assassination of President Kennedy that is currently appearing in AMER- ICAN OPINION, the soap-box of the John Birch Society. "The late President was an agent of the International Communist Movement. Despite his efforts to hasten a Red coup, Kennedy was unable to satisfy Moscow's demands. Consequently, his removal was inevitable."

Agricultural and Technical Institute at Alfred's newspaper TOR-ECHO says, "There is no excuse for an inadequate social life on campus if all constituents of the institution cooperate and work."

From THE SOUTHWESTER of South Western Oregon College: "One of the first and most demanding phases of learning is to discipline oneself to a strict analysis of information. Often it is difficult to distinguish between what is truth and what is the truth with a moderate stilt. But the process gets easier with practice."

"Clio" Features Trip, Seminar

Clio, the BCC history club, has a current agenda which includes a weekend trip to Washington, D. C., three guest speakers, and a seminar on overpopulation.

The Clio trip will be over the week-end of May 8-10, 1964. A brief ceremony will take place at Arlington Cemetery as a member of Clio, on behalf of the BCC student body, lays a wreath at the grave of the late President John F. Kennedy. The club will also visit the White House, the National Archives, the Washington Monument, and the National Gallery of Art. If, because of the filibuster on Civil Rights, Congress is in session during that weekend, the Clio group will visit the Senate, and observe the proceedings.

Cyril Tyson, advisor to the Mayor, and Professor of Sociology, addressed Clio on April 9, 1964. Prof. Tyson discussed integration in the schools. Clio's second speaker will be Prof. Kenneth Clarke, of City College. He will discuss "Integration and Urban Tensions." The History club is also planning to invite a speaker from the Board of Education to speak on "Careers in Teaching the Social Sciences."

In addition, Clio is now planning a seminar on the problems of overpopulation. The seminar will include a film and a group discussion.

Fair Invites Student Groups

Plans are being made for college jazz groups, folk singers, quartets, and steel bands to entertain at the World's Fair which opened April 22.

"Little Old New York," the Rheingold Pavilion, will sponsor the entertainment which will take place in the late afternoon and early evening on Saturdays.

The performers will entertain on a village green which has a seating capacity of 600.

Rheingold will take care of all expenses (transportation, Fair admission, and meals) for all participating groups.

Any college groups interested in entertaining at the Fair or desiring more information should write to Jesse Taub or Zeke Rase at Harshe-Rotman and Druck, Inc. 300 East 44th Street, New York, or call MO 1-3400.

Buckley Opponent Speaks Here

by Rita Varela

John Bingham, the man who hopes to defeat Rep. Charles Buckley in the June 2 Democratic primary, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Bronx Community College Young Democrats on Thursday, April 16, 1964.

Mr. Bingham had been appointed by the late President Kennedy as an Associate Ambassador to the United Nations and assistant to Ambassador Adlai Stevenson. However, he then decided to resign his post at the UN, in order to run against Buckley. He said that he has chosen to enter the Congressional race because he believes he could be of greater service to the public. Mr. Bingham also feels that more men with experience in foreign affairs should enter Congress. He referred to Rep. Buckley as "the architect of defeat for the Democratic Party," and charged that Buckley's actions in the 1958 elections gave the then candidate for Governor, Nelson Rockefeller the opportunity to use the charge of "bossism" as a campaign issue.

According to Mr. Bingham, Rep. Buckley has still refused to debate the issues with him. "The upcoming primary will be an exciting adventure in democracy," he said further. Mr. Bingham also praised the efforts of the New York State College Young Democrats in helping him with his campaign.

Should Mr. Bingham defeat Rep. Buckley, he would then have the right to oppose the Republican candidate in the election for the 23rd Congressional seat, in November. However, Buckley has been representing the 23rd Bronx Congressional District for almost thirty years and is favored to retain his seat in both the primary and the general elections.

Bronx Community College and the surrounding neighborhood is included in the area of the 23rd District.

HASH FROM NASH

Dear Mr. Nash:

A great many admirers of yours have long been plagued by a little couplet for which I believe you were responsible:

"The Bronx?
No, thonx"

is the way it reads, I believe."

So begins a letter from our loyal Dean of Faculty, Dr. Abraham Tauber, to Ogden Nash, the author of those nasty words, on the occasion of the Fiftieth Year of the Bronx as a county. Any man, once having discovered that the Bronx he so lightly discarded is the Borough of Progress and Universities, must now recant and disavow his folly. Mr. Nash, being a poet of great noet, did the obvious thing:

"Dear Dean Tauber—

I can't seem to escape the sins of my smart-alec youth.

Here are my amends.

I wrote those lines, "The Bronx? No thonx!"

I shudder to confess them.

Now I'm an older, wiser man

I cry, "The Bronx? God bless them!"

Contritely yours—

(signed) Ogden Nash"

We of the Bronx give you, Mr. Nash, our heartiest thonx.

"Guys and Gals" of BCC to Star in May Show

by Joe Tihari

A Faculty-Student Fashion and Talent Show entitled "Guys and Gals of BCC" will be held in the college auditorium on Friday evening, May 15, 1964.

The show is now "rolling" under the sponsorship of the fund raising sub-committee of the Committee on Financial Aid to Students. Mr. Benjamin Cutler, Coordinator for the event, stated that Gimbel's Westchester Department Store consented to stage the fashions for the show and offer the various door prizes. Miss Dana Woolberry, Fashion Coordinator for Gimbel's will do the commentary on the fashions, which will all be modeled by the students and faculty of BCC.

Mr. Thomas Ratcliffe, producer of the show, and Mr. David Raher, director, have been conducting auditions. Casting for three skits has already been completed. One of these, "The Scene at the Concord" depicts the typical BCC student leaving the college building and shows how he utilizes his time at the Concord Hotel. The second, "The Christmas Party" includes singing and dancing by the students of BCC. This scene will give the audience a vivid description of the Christmas Party held annually in the cafeteria, and student lounge. A third skit, "Fun at Registration," illustrates how "easy" it is for students to register for the classes of their choice.

Following the Fashion Show, there will be a dance in the gym. Refreshments will be served and two bands will provide continuous musical entertainment. Tickets are now on sale for $2.50.

Many faculty members are currently engaged in script writing. All those interested in participating in the show should contact Mr. Ratcliffe and any questions should be directed to Mr. Cutler.

All proceeds from the show will be contributed to the Scholarship Fund.

play "Hamlet", and featured Mr. Thomas Ratcliffe and Mr. David Raher. Students of "Hamlet" have a variety of opinions as to the character of the Prince of Denmark. Mr. Ratcliffe, in his talk, presented Hamlet as a young man fully aware of himself and his responsibilities. Mr. Raher spoke briefly on the actors who have portrayed Hamlet on the stage. He and Mr. Ratcliffe then proceeded to re-enact the scene in which the ghost and the prince meet.

The success of the new policy was also obvious from the audience reaction as Miss Regina Pomeranz, faculty advisor of the Club spoke on March 12, about John Milton and his epic purpose in writing "Paradise Lost." Mr. Raher once again performed, this time reading Adam's last speech from Paradise Lost.

Dr. Richard Loughlin, Chairman of the English and Speech Department was the next speaker. On April 15, 1964 at 12 noon, in the Concourse Center, he spoke on the "Time Concept in Literature."

French Club Stresses Fun

by Thelma Frankel

The French Club is an active and vital part of the Bronx Community College scene. This organization has been, and still is, providing its members and the entire student body with a new insight into the world of the French.

At the beginning of last semester the Club held a party in the Student Lounge. The guests sang French folk songs, danced to French music and enjoyed the refreshments which were served.

Once a month, as a regular feature of the Club, French movies are shown. This year such films as "La Traversé de Paris" and "Monsieur Vincent" by Jean Anouilh were shown. These films had, English subtitles, of course.

At Christmas-time, the French Club sold French Christmas cards to the students and faculty. Not only did this encourage the spread of a foreign culture, it also helped raise some money.

On April 23, the club played a volley ball game with the Spanish Club. Francais lost 21-16.

The club has also invited Mr. James Lewis a member of the French Art Theater, to address the group. Mr. Lewis has played this season at the Provincetown Playhouse-in-Britannicus, in L'Avare by Moliere.

The highlight of the semester was the traditional French Poetry Recital Contest. This year there were six winners. They were: Calvin Capers — F.02, Hans Helling, Alan Goldschmidt, Avril Fieuteau, F.3, Leslie Altschul, F.3 and Theresa Surdow, also of F.3. The prizes given are French books, or records of the winner's choice.

Mixed Results for BCC Teams

by Gerry Glanutzos

The BCC wrestling team completed its current season on February 15 with a record of 2 wins 7 losses and a tie.

On January 31, the Matmen lost to Orange County Community College by a score of 23-15. Urmas Naeris, Gary Brookshire, and Andy Troutman won their individual matches in this league meet.

BCC was defeated by Nassau Community College 28-10 on February 7. Naeris and Troutman recorded victories with Troutman defeating the man who would later become regional champ.

Marist College, a non-league foe, defeated BCC 25-9 on the 14th. Terry Tullman, Tom Phelan, and Gus Kamaras scored the nine points. BCC forfeited two matches in this meet, an automatic loss of ten points from the final score.

York Junior College topped BCC 30-10 in the year's final match. Tullman and Kamaras were the winners for the team, which again had to forfeit two matches, in recording its fourth league loss in five outings.

Following the season the wrestlers entered the NJCAA Regional Championships held at the Long Island Agricultural and Technological Institute at Farmingdale, New York on February 21-22.

In the first round Bob Haas (115 lbs.) was beaten by the eventual runner-up. Terry Tullman (123 lbs.) was defeated by the champion. Charles Molnar (137 lbs.) and Rauno Quisma (147 lbs.) also lost, Molnar to the runner-up. Tom Phelan (157 lbs.) and Gus Kamaras (167 lbs.) advanced by winning their respective matches.

In the second round, which were the semi-finals, both Phelan and Kamaras were beaten by the eventual regional champions. In the consolation round, Bob Haas won to place fourth in the tournament.

During the regular season the most consistent performances were turned in by Urmas Naeris and Andy Troutman both of whom finished with identical 6-2 records.

our leaders. We are especially indebted to Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg, Chairman, and the members of the Board of Higher Education who have supported our efforts to bring the realization of educational opportunities to present and future generations."

The new Bronx Community College will be built on an elevated platform constructed over approximately sixteen acres of space located above the New York City Rapid Transit Train Yard at Bedford Park Boulevard and Jerome Avenue. When completed, BCC will have nine new buildings, two of which (the auditorium and the student union) will be shared with adjacent Hunter College.

The new facilities will enable the college to serve an additional 3600 full-time students and 7500 part-time students. The college currently has an enrollment of 4500 day and evening students.

The new campus will also have the auditorium and theatre open to the public. In this way, BCC will become a community college in fact as well as name, something which has long been the dream of both Borough President Joseph F. Periconi and the Bronx Council on Arts.

Most of the new campus will be ready for use in September, 1968 and the entire project is scheduled for completion by 1970.

Architects of the "air-space" campus are DeYoung, Moscovitz, and Prince of New York City.

In the meantime, the newest addition to BCC's sports, the basketball team, has been very active in organizing a varsity team for next season. The team has arranged a series of matches this year against various other colleges and has performed admirably.

On February 26 BCC battled the New York Institute of Technology at O'Shea Junior High School. The N.Y.I.T., a strong four year college team defeated the Broncos 70-62. The Broncos came back late in the second half to cut N.Y.I.T.'s lead panied by Prof. Furst, followed the capping ceremony. The College Chorus performed "America, the Beautiful," "Good Morning, Pretty Maid" by Alfred Whitehead, "Gaudeamus Igitur," and "Gay Young Jack," a Finnish folk song.

The audience, aided by the projection of picture slides, with the words to each stanza under the frames, sang along with the Chorus for the second, third, and fourth stanzas of "America, the Beautiful."

President Meister then introduced the service awards ceremony with an address entitled "A Meaningful Life Through Service."

Dr. Meister emphasized the importance in one's life, of service to others and the personal satisfaction one receives from giving of himself.

The presentation of student awards followed. Dr. Clement H. Thompson, Dean of Students, Miss Marion Stringham, and Penny McKenzie, Chairman of the Student Awards Committee of Student Council made the presentations, which fell into three categories.

The names of those students receiving certificates of service were announced and the recipients were asked to stand at their seats. Students receiving certificates of meritorious service and plaques for meritorious service were called to the platform to accept their awards personally.

Others who saw action were Condon Brown, Carl Danziger, Captain Arnold Robinson, Lou Kagan, Erwin Roberts, Ken Eisenberger, James Campbell, and Ronald Simmons. This game was played exactly one week after N.Y.I.T. beat the Broncos 70-40.

On March 3 BCC won its second game of the year (the first being

John Burghardt, Vice-President of Student Council, presented service awards, on behalf of the Student Government, to four members of the faculty: Prof. Minerva Chalapis, Prof. Isabel Krey, Miss Stringham, and Mr. David Greenberg.

A buffet reception for students, faculty, and guests was held in the Student Lounge and Cafeteria after the convocation.

The festivities were arranged and coordinated by Dr. Vera F. Minkin, Assistant Dean of Students and Chairman of the Committee on College Occasions.
